the Soviet clique in the UN persist in its attack, we are letting the UN appear even more ridiculous than it has been.

Why not the facts?

There is every reason to believe Soviet Russia is pushing her plans to communize the world. Honeycombed as the United States undoubtedly is with Communist spies, torn with dissension fomented by Communist agents, we face the likelihood, if not the certainty, of being attacked by Soviet Russia in from six months to two or three years.

If we are going to have war we'll need friends. It is common to hear, on this side of the Atlantic, the opinion that if Russia wished she could overrun all Europe in six weeks. If she could win all Europe, Britain would be lost, and practically speaking only America would remain to be conquered. With America imperiled by Communist infiltration, such a degree of sabotage and demoralization could be brought about within a few days as to paralyze our own defense.

The record of the United States toward Spain in the past 11 years includes the following:

1. We permitted the Communist Party of the U.S.A., contrary to Federal statute, to recruit in 1936 several thousand members of the so-called "Abraham Lincoln Brigade." These men, furnished with passports that were forged or obtained under false pretenses, were sent to Spain to join the "International Brigade," which consisted of battalions sent by each of many Communist parties in other countries. Several years later, when the facts about this unlawful recruiting in the United States and the violations of the passport law became known, indictments were brought against these persons. But the Federal Government stepped in, at the instance of this same Communist Party, to block and quash the indictments.

2. It is believed by some persons that the United States Department of Justice considered or consented to the House of Representatives and even the Supreme Court in the past few sentences by a Federal Court in Washington. They had refused to give information about their activities to a committee of the House. Several days later at a dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, said to have been attended by 2,000 persons, these convicted persons were treated as heroes.

They were heroes, in a sense, but more for Soviet Russia and the Communist cause than anything else. For not only has it not been one of the major activities of the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee was bringing Spanish revolutionaries, most of them Communistic if not actual Communists, to the United States after Franco won in 1939. These men have been agitating ever since then to involve the United States in the plan to overthrow the Franco government — an accomplishment that would make just about certain the communizing of Spain, and presently all of Europe.

Spanish refugees in the United States have in all probability had the benefit of part of the gold stolen by the Communists in 1937 from the Bank of Spain, most of which was shipped to Russia. Indeed it is entirely possible that the enormous Communist agitation in the United States in recent years has been financed through this stolen Spanish gold. The stealing of this gold (Spain in 1936 had a gold reserve of 800 million dollars — the fourth largest in the world) is a matter of common knowledge among informed persons, both in Spain and abroad. It was confirmed to me only today in Madrid, in a personal talk with a leading member of the Syndicalist Party, which is opposed to both Franco and the Communists.

3. High State Department officials are said on good authority to be impressed and highly influenced by the activities, and the attendant publicity, of groups like this Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee — and by left-wing publications such as the Nation, the New Republic and PM. Since it is now known that the Roosevelt Administration for years appeased Soviet Russia in every possible way, going so far as to subsidize Hollywood to put out Communist films, it is not surprising that our State Department, still well stocked with left-wingers, should continue the policy of hostility to the Franco government.

4. It is reported in Spain that Spaniards who return to their native land are given little encouragement that the difficulty of securing American visas is great.

5. It is believed by some persons including the State Department and the House of Representatives and even the Supreme Court in the past few sentences by a Federal Court in Washington. They had refused to give information about their activities to a committee of the House. Several days later at a dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, said to have been attended by 2,000 persons, these convicted persons were treated as heroes.

6. The United States government at any time in the past ten years could have learned the facts about Spain by the simple method of sending competent unbiased persons to investigate. For not only has it not been one of the major activities of the Joint refused to listen to its own ambassadors. Instead of getting the facts, Washington has based its Spanish policy on representations that any reader could have found in the Daily Worker and PM.

In 1945 the State Department sent to our last ambassador at Madrid, Mr. Norman Armour, a copy of a hostile, offensive letter President Roosevelt had written about Franco, and instructed him to give it to the Spanish press. There is reason to believe Mr. Armour did this unwillingly. But the Spanish government refused to release it to the press. Thereupon the State Department ordered Mr. Armour to mail copies to the embassy's mailing list of some 60,000 names. Mr. Armour of course had to comply. But shortly afterward he resigned and severed all connection with the State Department.

How would an American administration and the American people have felt if some other nation had perpetrated such a cheap, shabby trick in Washington?

However, things that are done cannot be undone. What is more important, and very much to the point, is — what will American policy toward Spain be in the future?

LET'S DISCOVER SPAIN

By Merwin K. Hart, President, National Economic Council, Inc.

Red's Objective Is to Destroy Christianity

One of the main weapons of Communists is Confusion. They use any means to confuse the world as to who the Communists are and what their real objectives are.

Armed Communist groups in Italy, in Yugoslavia, in Bulgaria and Rumania, operate under the name "Partisans." In Spain, during the revolution of 1936 and 1937, they called themselves "Loyalists" and said they were fighting Capitalists and Fascists.

The accompanying photograph, taken in Spain during the revolution, showing a Communist squad firing on a statue of Christ, leaves no doubt they are motivated mainly by a hatred of Christianity.

The Communists have shown their hatred of Christ down through the years and will remove from the earth everything that reminds us of Him . . . if we sleepy Christians permit them to gain control.

At the time this picture was taken thousands of Christians in Spain were being herded in public squares with their families, where the women and girls were raped and many were buried alive!

This is the kind of enemy we face in America today!

We are informed that the Director of the MVD (Ministry of the Interior) in Russia has just written to the world safe Co-

Madrid, August, 1947. Four hundred and fifty-five years ago Spain discovered America. That marked the dawn of a new day in the world. Less spectacular, but greatly beneficial to the American people, would it be for America now to discover Spain.

For America doesn't know Spain. Probably not one per cent of Americans have an intelligent understanding of what Spain is, what she stands for, what the majority of her people think about in connection with the United States.

And for this ignorance we can blame the skillful, bitter propaganda put out by Communists, their fellow-travellers and those thousands of our "liberal" intellectuals who in their writings or preachings, their columns or editorials, repeat the prattle, sometimes watered down, of the Communist Daily Worker.

BEVINS' REQUEST PROMPTS CYNICAL SUGGESTIONS

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin asks that the U. S. divide up the Fort Knox gold.

That sounds reasonable. Why not? We have used of our other resources all over the world — rubber, oil, steel and, most of all, the human resources. Why should we not waste this gold?

Since 1935, the Communists' stock name for anyone who opposes Communism has been, of course, "Fascist." So, when Franco and his government are called fascist by these gentry and their superficial fad-following friends and admirers, it amounts principally to their acknowledged, indeed boasted, anti-Communism.

Of course Franco's government has elements of the authoritarian form. But so did that of Franklin Delano Roosevelt. Indeed John T. Flynn, one of America's keenest minds and greatest writers, pointed out in his book We Go Marching that Roosevelt had taken the United States about four-fifths of the whole way to Italian Fascism.

Now most of those Americans who prattle against Franco range from Communists to Roosevelt New Dealers. They include the internationalists and those planning-professors in ivory towers who in their conceit feel that the whole world can and should be reorganized and reshaped by them. Incidentally they fail to see that if their planning were all carried out, there wouldn't be one-quarter the liberty left for Mr. and Mrs. American Citizen that Spaniards now enjoy under Franco.

Down to about two years ago ninety per cent of the American people took any threat of Communism as a joke. Then there began to appear the results of Roosevelt's sell-out of the American people. . . .

What happened in 1947? . . . have only to remember the Roosevelt appointment of hundreds of communists or fellow-travellers to public office, his allowing Soviet agents some or all of them members of the MVD (successor to the NKVD), to rove about the United States and depart for home with full-time blue-prints and other information about our vital industrial plants. We have only to remember that Communists were granted commissions in the Army, while some loyal native-born American citizens were denied commissions apparently for no other reason than that they had openly opposed Communism. We have to remember that Roosevelt permitted the engraving plates of American paper money to be handed over to Soviet Russia, with the result that American taxpayers will some day have to redeem upwards of 800 million dollars of these plates that are now in the hands of the Russians.

are still in Soviet Russia's hands! We have only to remember these incidents to see that the President has been a willing slave to Soviet Russia—the greatest enemy this country ever had.

And so we understand why at last, on March 12, 1947, Roosevelt's successor, Mr. Truman, asked the Congress to appropriate 400 million dollars to stop Communism in Greece and Turkey. And Congress presently did so.

Yet in certain respects, down to the present moment, the United States, officially, is still playing Communism's game in its dealings with Soviet Russia. We betrayed into the hands of Soviet Russia the Polish ally for whom Britain went to the war in which we followed. The Polish Ambassador was Oscar Lange, once a naturalized American and a CIO official who renounced his citizenship when Soviet Russia needed him to serve its puppet government of Poland. Lange took the lead in the United Nations in a concerted drive designed to throw Franco out of Spain—and we meekly followed in the wake of Lange and Stalin! We withdrew our ambassador (or, more exactly, we did not fill the vacancy caused by Norman Armour's withdrawal) because the Soviet clique in the UN told us to do so.

And on several occasions since then some nameless spokesman in the State Department has announced that nothing has happened to change the attitude of the United States toward Spain!

Two things are happening now. First, we Americans are making ourselves ridiculous in the eyes of the world. I am not at the moment writing of the effect in Spain. I am thinking of the natural effect upon thinking men everywhere when our great Republic at this late moment permits itself to be pulled around by the nose at the instance of the Communist International—even in a situation where vital American interests are involved.

And in the second place, by letting it—hand it to others—

"A task without vision is drudgery . . . Vision without a task is a dream . . . A task with vision is Victory"

The Basic Issue Facing Us Today Is Just This:

AMERICANISM or COMMUNISM!

That is the crux of all political, social and labor issues: all government controls and mandates

One system, not two. Americanism or Communism, will win, or else. Only one will survive!

THE PRESS OF AMERICA,

cooperating with labor, with business and with the Church, by stating true facts and exposing trends, can inform all people of the true nature of what faces us and prevent our country reverting to worse than jungle law.

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

can do anything if they but know the task and the facts. But they must be told. No man's judgment and vision are better than his information.

Joseph Pulitzer said "Our Republic and its Press will rise or fall together". This is a fact, not a theory. As long as we have a free, responsible press we shall have a free country. When our press becomes lax in its duties, our country is in danger. When we have a government-controlled Press, we shall have a police state, or Communism.

BECAUSE OUR PRESS FORMS PUBLIC OPINION, IT SHOULD ASK—AND ANSWER—QUESTIONS SUCH AS THESE ON THE FRONT PAGES

Does communism give any people more liberty and freedom than we have under our Constitution and Bill of Rights . . . or does it abolish such things?

Does communism give man the right to achieve his own security, or take it away?

Does communism give freedom of religion, or does it abolish churches?

Does communism give the right to trial by jury, or does it abolish justice?

Will communism give us the right to labor at what we choose, the right to save our money and go into business, the right to own a home, worship as we please, have freedom of speech and freedom to vote as we please?

Some editors may feel this is not popular reading. It had better be. Some may feel it isn't conservative policy. They should forget policy. Some may think it isn't an issue readers want to face. If it isn't, their readers are dead. Some feel such things should not be discussed. If they aren't discussed, there will be a day, when discussion is prohibited. This subject had better be discussed freely and publicly right out in the open, here and now. If it isn't done now, we may never have another chance to do it.

If communism versus Americanism isn't a life and death matter to all Americans, then we the people have rejected our own heritage and sold our birth-right.

OUR PRESS, AND ONLY OUR PRESS CAN HELP THE PEOPLE DECIDE:

Whether the dictates of the Kremlin Are More Important Than Constitutional Liberty and Freedom.

Whether the Voice of One Man is Invincible.

Whether a Communistic or a free world is Desirable.

Whether Liberty and Justice are Preferable.

Let's look at ourselves. Our system has made staples of luxuries. Our staples are better than the luxuries of other lands. No man in this country can be a success without carrying others to success with him. No man creates wealth for himself without creating wealth for others. Here, the machinery of production and wealth creation is in the hands of millions of people. In Europe, it is in the hands of a few. Under communism they are in the hands of one . . . in the hands of the police state.

If Communism Wins, this country will be a Hell, Who Among Us Can Say This Is Not the Basic Issue Facing Us?

Communism will wipe out all we hold dear: God, family, country, liberty and possessions. Seventy million life insurance policies will become worthless scrap paper. Churches will become clubs or political bureau offices. Savings accounts will be seized. Property will be confiscated. Radio muzzled. The movies controlled by a one-man board. The Press will be out of business.

Our Press Knows How To Make News Dynamic.

Our Press Should Express Daily the Dynamics of the Constitution. What are they? Simply the Rights and Privileges Bestowed . . . Not What It Takes Away!

Everything we do as a free people every hour of the day and night, is ours to do, or not to do, by Constitutional Right. From our Government, and from no other source, do we obtain sanctity of the home, the guarantee of right to trial by jury, protection from cruel and unjust punishment, from excessive fines, from engulfment by centralized power. Our Constitution has chains only for the criminally minded among us, fetters only for those who would steal our liberty from us. The Giant Shadow of communism, a political system designed to govern former serfs of Russia and considering all people as children, or no better than cattle, moves over the entire earth. Wherever that shadow falls, all personal liberty falls. The people become slaves; despotic gangsters rule. Death, or worse than death, is the penalty for non-conformance.

It Has Been Attempted Here, Right Under the Eyes of the Press . . . But It Hasn't Been Made Front Page News . . . Yet.

Flying discs, divorces, murders and scandals. These are front page news. Robberies, carjacks, new model automobiles—these are what the people want . . . or so think some editors. All the phases of the plot to steal the American social economy, and make all people slaves of the state, are just minor political ideas—"too sensational" for some papers and "too uninteresting" for some others.

Little by little, over the past sixteen years, communistic ideas have been injected into government and have been eroding the liberties of the people. The New Deal made it all sound fine, on the surface. But it came within an ace of engulfing all of us in a form of socialism that is always the first step to communism.

All of Us Should Request Action of the Press . . . Action to Preserve the American Way of Life.

There is no better way of life on the face of this earth. To most Europeans, America is a forestate of heaven. With all our faults we still have the system that works best, to the greatest profit of the most people.

We should request . . . demand . . . of our Press that it expose every communistic idea, no matter where found. Does the new idea take any liberty away from the common man? WHO is gaining WHAT at the expense of that lost liberty?

All the Works and Plans of Communism Should Be Pulled from Behind the Iron Curtain and into the Bright Light of Exposure. The World Has a Communistic Cancer . . . and That is A Fact, Not a Theory.

Edward F. Hutton, as the writer, have estates that will practically be confiscated in our youth the same opportunities we have enjoyed—many of which it serves no purpose to think how nice it would be if there were no inevitable disaster. The disease is there. We need a remedy, not a palliative. We need a healthy fabric for peace. And the cure should be obvious; equal liberty, equal freedom, equal opportunity for all the people.

We Have the Cure. Our Press Can Distribute It. We the People Can Administer It.

Just as certainly as the disease will cause a world fatality, so surely can it be cured by the common sense of the common people of this land of ours. Who has called them common? They are the most uncommon people in the world. People with enterprise, with liberty and freedom; people who can think, will think, and will act as soon as they are informed. Victory for the world . . . by virtue of a task with vision.

You Can Do This Now, Under Your Constitution and Bill of Rights. Under Communism, You'd Be Sent to the Salt Mines for Even Thinking of Doing It.

WRITE to the editor of the newspaper you read. Tell him you want to see communism in its every aspect, its every threat, in every edifice in the U.S.A., exposed on the front pages. Tell him you want to see the Constitution under which we live, dramatized, that the people may know what jewels are in that oftentimes considered dry-as-dust document. The paper to which you give the loyalty of readership owes this to you. Ask for it. Demand it.

WRITE to the president of every company whose products you buy and use. Ask him to devote some of his advertising money to selling the product most precious to you . . . your rights to liberty and freedom. Without your rights protected, his rights will melt away.

WRITE to the president of every insurance company in which you have a policy. Tell him the greatest insurance advertising campaign in history is his to sell—insurance of the American way of life. Not sold in the old platitudes, but in dynamic exposure and with dramatic fact.

WRITE to the management of every business in which you have risked your own savings. Tell that management to come alive to their responsibilities to the nation, the people, and to that simple document upon which all our power and greatness rests—our Constitution.
